RICHMOND AND OAKLAND HARBOR OUTLINE READY

DATA WILL BE TRANSMITTED TO BOARD OF RIVERS AND HARBOR ENGINEERS AT WASHINGTON WITHIN TWO WEEKS—COST WILL BE BORNE BETWEEN GOVERNMENT AND CITIES ON EAST SHORE OF SAN FRANCISCO BAY—$5,000,000 TO BE SPENT ON WORK OF MAKING HARBOR

(Special to Record-Herald)

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 12.—Within two weeks the complete outline for the harbors of Oakland and Richmond will be sent to the board of rivers and harbors engineers of the war department at Washington, according to word received by Lieutenant Col. Thomas H. Rees, United States army engineer, who has been working on the plan for several years.

About $5,000,000 will be spent on the establishment of a uniform harbor system for Oakland and the other cities and the work will be finished by 1918. The project includes a 1200-foot channel dredged to a depth sufficient to accommodate the deepest ocean-going steamers.

The cost of the work will be equally divided between the federal government and the cities interested in the project. Oakland, Richmond, Albany, Berkeley and Emeryville will be the main factors involved in the great waterfront opening.

INQUEST IS HELD OVER MAN WHO CHOKED TO DEATH

Coroner C. L. Abbott was called to Antioch today to conduct an inquest to inquire into the recent death of Marshal J. P. Shine of that town who choked to death while swallowing a piece of meat.

Shine was sitting at the dinner table eating with his family when a large piece of meat caught in his windpipe choking him to death.

TRUCK COMPANY BUYS IRON WORKS

The Lincoln Motor Truck company has joined the ranks of the California manufacturers, having recently purchased the Fulton Iron works at Sacramento. It is the intention of the corporation to make one thousand one-half ton and eight hundred three-quarter ton trucks during 1914.

The Lincoln truck is the lowest priced vehicle of its class on the market and the new factory will mean a reduction in price and a consequent saving to customers as the freight on the vehicles from the east is quite an item, amounting to about $50 per truck.

The local representative of the company in Richmond, D. A. Knowles, worked hard in an effort to secure the factory for Richmond, but is pleased, nevertheless, to have it locate in the state.

R. R. COMMISSION FINDS THAT CARS ARE GOOD ENOUGH

The state railroad commission at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, handed down an opinion to the effect that Assemblyman T. D. Johnston of this city had no grounds upon which to bring charges against the San Francisco, Oakland Terminal railways for not having more vestibule cars on the run between Oakland and Richmond.

Johnston's plea for more vestibule cars was that in wet weather the rain and wind beat into the open cars causing the passengers and the car crews consierable annoyance, but the commission on finding that one-half the cars on the Oakland-Richmond run are vestibuled, dropped the case.

The couple, on their return to that city, last evening, were tendered a party by a number of their friends at the Endmarke home on Market street.

REAL ESTATE FIRM BUYS NINTEEN LOTS

The real estate firm of Pellow & Nelson yesterday closed a big deal by which the firm came into possession of 19 lots in this city, situated on Chanslor avenue between Fourteenth and Twentieth streets. The lots were purchased on speculation and the firm expects to turn them soon into bright twenty-dollar pieces.

They have an error column in the big league, but that isn't what the scouts watch when touring the bushes.

MISS DOWNER TO BE HOSTESS TO MANY FRIENDS

Miss Helen Downer will entertain a number of the students of the Richmond high school at a party to be given at her home in Pinole tomorrow evening. The parties given in the past by Miss Downer have always been of a most enjoyable nature and the one planned for tomorrow evening promises to be one of the most elite given in society circles this year.

The guests will be taken to and from the party by automobiles furnished for the occasion by E. M. Downer, father of the young hostess.

LADY MACCABEES HOLD A MEETING

The ladies of Richmond Hive of Maccabees met at the home of Mrs. Anna Thorn, 407 Florida street, today for their regular weekly meeting at which time a short program was held following which refreshments were served by the hostess.

Plans were discussed for the giving of a social dance and whist party to be held some time during the coming month.

LINCOLN DAY IS OBSERVED IN CITY

Today was Abraham Lincoln's birthday and was observed by many citizens of Richmond. The postoffice and banks remained closed throughout the day. At the public school buildings appropriate exercises were held. Members of the Grand Army of the Republic took advantage of the opportunity and addressed the pupils on the subject of the late war of the rebellion.

M'EWENS FAIL TO GET BETTER WATER

The McEwen Bros. water company in the Santa Fe district is meeting with poor success to establish new wells in the hope of giving their patrons better water.

A recent well sunk to the depth of 67 feet spouted water but it was no better that that which the people of that district are being supplied with at the present time.

OAKLAND TRACTION REPAIRING TRACKS

Superintendent of Construction C. M. Cook of the Oakland Traction company, has a large force of men at work on Macdonald avenue near Ashland, putting in new ballast.

The tracks recently laid have shifted their ballast causing the cars to rock considerably.

There is too much talk and too little grub at the average banquet. This matter should be adjusted by the next legislature.

MOOSE TO HAVE A MILITARY BRANCH

STEPS TAKEN LAST EVENING TO ORGANIZE UNIFORM RANK OF ORDER IN THIS CITY—FORTY MEMBERS HAVE SIGNED UP AND MORE ARE EXPECTED TO BE INTERESTED IN MOVEMENT—OFFICERS FOR MILITARY DEPARTMENT ELECTED — JUDGE CLARK HEADS MOVEMENT

At the regular meeting of the local Moose lodge last evening a drill team and military branch of the order was organized with forty members. More identified with the Moose lodge are expected to subscribe their names to the list. The movement for the organization of a military rank of the order in this city has been headed by Judge Clark.

The following are the officers selected for the military branch of the order in Richmond: Captain, R. B. Moore; first lieutenant, S. B. Kurtz; and second lieutenant, W. B. Smith. The drill rank will start immediately on its active work.

The Moose will give a select dance on the 25th of this month in Moose hall, at which time and place the members of the military branch of the order are expected to have their uniforms and will make their debut in gold lace and gorgeous uniforms. All members of the order will be allowed to invite their lady friends and many are looking forward to the event.

A committee composed of Frank Bosworth, W. F. Freudenberg and Milo Kitchen was appointed to make arrangements for the dance. The Woman's Loyal Moose Circle will furnish the refreshments.

Captain Moore and Lieutenants Kurtz and Smith have all seen actual military service and are well qualified to fill the responsible position to which they have been selected.

"To Observations Which Ourselves We Make, We Grow More Partial, for the Observer's Sake."

SALARIES PAID OUR PUBLIC SERVANTS

Matters political so far as county offices are concerned are beginning to be discussed in different parts of the county. So far there have not been many names mentioned as aspirants for political honors outside of those who are now enjoying the emoluments of office.

This year the primary law is in full force and effect and there will be no party lines drawn as all candidates will appear on the ballots as nonpartisan. This simply means that the voter will cast his ballot for the man, taking into consideration what he has accomplished rather than for any particular party.

Richmond will undoubtedly have her share of candidates, as the western end is of the opinion that as it pays over forty per cent of the taxes of the county, it is entiled to some representation in county matters.

The question has been asked of the Record-Herald a great many times what the salaries and emoluments of the different offices are. In this article in response to many requests we will give the information asked for.

Since the election four years ago a great many changes have been made in the compensation of county offices and deputies. The law provides that the salary of a principal cannot be increased during the term of office, but the compensation of a deputy can.

The appended table will show the salaries in effect in 1909, and what has been added to by the legislature in 1911 and 1913. The figures appearing under the column 1913 are the salaries that will take effect at the commencement of the new term of county offices in 1914, so far as the principals are concerned.

As the law provides for a second judge in 1914 the clerk will be entitled to another courtroom deputy at a salary of $1,380 per year.

The law also allows the clerk five cents per name for compiling the great register. In 1911 there were 12,726 names on the great register.

James D. Phelan is now squarely in the race for the United States senate from California, to succeed George L. Perkins. Mr. Phelan is a Democrat and that party could win hands down in California this time if it only had the political sense, for the opposition is split right square in two in the middle. But the Democratic party of California is much like Grant used to say about the national party—always to be depended upon to do the wrong thing at the right time. Phelan is a smart man and a good man, but he belongs to the silk-stocking crowd and ought to get out and mix more with the common herd. The nabobs are all right in their way but they don't vote very hard. There was once a pompous old aristocrat who took a poll of a train of Pullman cars and informed the red-shirted section boss at a siding that it was solidly Republican, to which the Irishman replied: "To hell wid yer Pullman train! Just wait till th' gravel train gets in!"

Forty-seven years ago this country bought Alaska from Russia for $7,200,000, and many said we were buncoed. Alaska is yet practically undeveloped, yet it has already produced for us over $150,000,000 in furs, fish and gold. It is a country of wonderful future possibilities, and any young man of sturdy nature can go there and build up a fortune.

Many heroes have been awarded medals from the Carnegie commission, but the man who regularly takes cold baths in winter seems to have been overlooked.

DOUBLY PROVEN

Richmond Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This Richmond citizen testifies long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

Mrs. James Wright, 1119 Roosevelt avenue, Richmond, Cal., says: "I was troubled all the time with weakness and pains in the hips and loins. I was almost laid up. I got up in the morning feeling so tired, lame and worn out, that it was all I could do to start my housework. My kidneys were weak and if I caught cold, it always made me feel worse. I tried everything I heard of, but didn't seem able to get relief until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. I soon felt like a different woman. After I had used four boxes, all the ailments had gone and my health was fine."

No Trouble Since.

On April 21, 1913, Mrs. Wright was interviewed and said: "I haven't had a sign of kidney complaint since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me some years ago. You may continue using the endorsement I have given them before."

Greece Asks for Justice

F.

"Without fear and without reproach." Thus history has characterized the "perfect knight," the flower of European chivalry, Bayard. And history will write its record of the armies of Greece in these same words. Fearless they showed themselves by the heights they stormed, the almost impregnable intrenchments they took by assault, the tireless marches in intolerable heat over roads torn by dynamite, the rivers they swam, whose bridges lay masses of tangled steel, blocking turgid streams thick with the bodies of men and horses, and, last and crowning achievement, they came through the terrible campaign "without reproach." It took more than courage, it took the highest possible collective ideals of manhood to restrain the Greek army from furious reprisals. They had to pass through a country devastated by an enemy who knew no law of God or man. Day after day they had to see the mutilated corpses of defenceless peasants, the torn and bleeding bodies of women and little children, the shattered ruins of burned and looted towns. Day after day the terrible stories of the survivors were brought to their ears—tales that would have put Nero to shame, tales only too well proved by the mute witnesses themselves. Crucifixions, burials alive, hideous tortures and slow dismemberment. They heard the cry of the women, "Better that we were dead." They saw the corpses of their comrades, prisoners of war, slaughtered like sheep and left by the roadside in gory challenge. They saw their men shot down under the flag of truce, the sick in the hospitals butchered for sport, the holy men of their common faith delivered to hideous martyrdom, and with a high courage that should be respected by all the world they withheld their hand from the sword of revenge. Not for a moment did they fail in discipline. Their prisoners of war, and they numbered over 12,000, received humane treatment. They were cared for and their wounds tended. Even the unspeakable Comnitadjis received consideration, at which the whole world wondered. Let us quote from a press bureau dispatch:—

"Greek advance irresistible; the soldiers sing as they march. Bulgarians, routed, are burning and destroying everything in their path. A number of wounded Greeks taken by Bulgarians after an assault on trenches were horribly mutilated, among them Lieutenant Markandonaki, his head literally torn off, eyes gouged out, atrocious brutality. Bulgarian prisoners have been humanely cared for."

"Bulgarian prisoners have been humanely cared for!" In the face of brutality and treachery without parallel in history the Greeks maintained a standard of honor that has seldom, if ever, been equalled.

We do not read in the history of the United States of any tender mercy shown by the whites in their encounters with the scalping, burning and torturing Apaches. On the contrary, we read how, inflamed by the sight of burning farms and murdered women and children, the settlers and soldiers gave no quarter. "No good Indian except a dead Indian," and they proceeded savagely to make as many as possible as good as possible. If we mistake not, the result of the French employment of Indian allies was some most ungentle reprisals by the Colonials. As to the English in India at the time of the Sepoy rebellion?—we submit herewith extracts of an open letter published in the Montreal Gazette by Captain Reid, R. E. (T.):—

"The foul deed which has damned the Bulgarian nation forever occurred at Serres. A massacre's substantiation requires an eye witness. We have had the incontrovertible testimony of independent officials who were present immediately afterward and witnessed the silent scenes which have not been equalled since Cawnpore.

"King Constantine saw with his own eyes at the villages of Doxato and Dotrani the disemboweled women and slaughtered children, and it completely unmanned him for some time. His general staff, anxious on his behalf, would not allow him to proceed to Serres, and his eyes were mercifully spared the Jack-the-Ripper abominations there.

"'One of the noteworthy tasks,' says an accusation brought against the Greeks, 'was the minute examination and verification by the commissioners of the famous packet of letters from Greek soldiers captured by the Bulgarians and containing horrible descriptions of how Greek soldiers avenged themselves on Bulgarians who fell into their hands.' Well, and what of that after Serres? Did the old Ninety-third Highlanders give any quarter with the bayonet after they swore their terrible oaths of vengeance on the severed golden locks of the little English girls at Cawnpore? Why, the monsters of such deeds on women and children were blown alive from the mouths of British field guns!

"Since I wrote in August last, the horrors of Serres have been reverted again in Thrace. We cannot refuse the circumstantially detailed statements of reliable correspondents, such as Pierre Loti, the French writer, or Mr. E. Ashmeard-Bartlett, of the Daily Telegraph, London. Visiting in September the devastated and deserted Ortakeui district, on the Arda River, west of Adrianopole, in a narrative extending over many columns the latter writes:—

"'Then I came to the village of Samana, at which I stopped, because it possesses a well which will occupy almost as tragic a place in history as the historic well of Cawnpore. From this well were taken the bodies of eighty-one Turkish men, who, after being frightfully mutilated, were thrown in there to die. Samana is absolutely deserted. I am assured that hardly a female between the ages of seven and seventy remains in the whole district who has not been outraged.'

"From Pierre Loti's long story I extract this:—

"'I was taken at Adrianopole to see the Island of Anguish—that island in the Tundja River where four or five thousand Turkish prisoners of war were herded together in order that they might die of hunger. There I saw the trees up to a man's height naked and white, despoiled of their bark, which the famished prisoners had devoured. At the end of a fortnight of this torture the Bulgarians came and cut the throats of those who had persisted in living.'

"This is Bulgaria's bloody aftermath, in order to lessen the odious calumny which will forever associate itself with that nation's future, what is she seeking to do? To endeavor to prove that 'the armies of all the Balkan States committed atrocities.'

"I have shown that if the Greek soldiers gave no quarter after Serres to the Bulgarians—and I know that they showed mercy in almost every instance—the Bulgarians were not entitled to it."

Before proceeding, it should be mentioned that "the letters from Greek soldiers" referred to above have been found to be forgeries.

Captain Reid takes the stand that had the Greeks, maddened by the terrible sights they saw, turned with equal fury upon the perpetrators of the atrocities, they had full justification for so doing, which may be true; but the Greeks themselves rose superior to the temptation. Excusable they might be, on the grounds of such provocation, but the fact remains that they maintained a self-restraint and upheld a national honor that stamps them "preux Chevaliers" without reproach and without fear. As Captain Reid says, "They showed mercy in almost every instance."

In a private letter of recent date Captain Reid wrote as follows:—

"I pin my contention upon the precedent of Cawnpore during the great Indian Mutiny of 1857, where, by the fury of the mutineers, English women and children were ravished, hacked in pieces and their remains thrown down a well. By Bulgarian soldiery such unmentionable horrors were perpetrated on Greek women and children by like methods at Serres and its outlying villages in 1913. After Cawnpore no mercy was given to the Sepoy mutineers by British infantry. They took no prisoners. After Serres the Bulgarian soldiery proved themselves no longer entitled to the rights and privileges of war as waged between two civilized nations. No Bulgarian prisoners need have been taken. The massacre at Serres and its vicinity was not a spasmodic act of a few maddened soldiers, but murder deliberately perpetrated from village to village by a defeated Bulgarian army still under the command of responsible generals. There is no difference between Serres and Cawnpore. Had King Constantine notified King Ferdinand that he refused to treat his soldiers as civilized troops, by that meaning that no quarter would be given unless by grace of the victor, history would have justified his determination. Utter defeat in war unmasked the Bulgarian Brute, and I, for one, regret bitterly that the urgent exigencies of European politics stayed the gallant soldier, King Constantine, from marching into Sofia and ending forever the Bulgarian Nation as a Power. I persist, therefore, in my contention that at Serres Bulgaria's soldiers forfeited their right to be recognized as civilized combatants."

Not only had Greece given kindness for cruelty, good for evil, but she lived up to her conviction that the worst criminal should be allowed at least to try to defend his actions and have whatever protection the law could afford. The captured Comnitadjis were allowed trial, though they were outlaws and bandits for the most part. "Irregulars" they called themselves, and their depredations and atrocities lacked even the faint excuse of legitimate warfare. They were in the killing for whatever of lust or loot they could get out of it. They might rightfully have been shot on sigh, like so many mad dogs. They had forfeited all rights to anything but quick extermination. Yet even from these Greece withheld the sword of vengeance until it should be replaced by the sword of justice. Read the following despatch and realize also that it is dated July 23, 1913, at the very height of the bloody fray, after the unforgivable horrors at Serres:—

"Demir-Hissar court martial condemned to death Comnitadji Dimitre Paue, accused by a Mohammedan woman, Kismet Husni, village of Popinitsa, of having, at the time of the Bulgarian occupation of the town, entered and looted several houses, murdered the grandparents and husband of the plaintiff, furthermore, of taking bodily possession of her person, compelling her to live with him and forcing her to accept Christianity. Defendant admitted everything, excusing himself on the ground that he was with many other Irregulars, all of whom were doing much the same thing. Signed 'Press Bureau.'"

In no country and at no period of history has such Spartan magnanimity been shown. It is not to be conceived that revengeful fury was not hot at the heart of every Greek. What then must have been the power of an ideal that could hold in check the legitimate and natural anger of a whole people? It is the triumph of the spirit over the body. A distinct high water mark in the rising tide of humanitarianism. It was made possible by the greatness of Greek tradition, by the force of a racial development that from the dawn of history has lifted this people forward in an everlasting struggle toward the Supreme Manifestation, whether physical and mental perfection or a devotional idea.

"What if they did turn upon the beasts in human shape who outraged all humanity?" cried the nations. "They were justified. We have done and would do the same." That is beside the mark. The fact is the Greeks would not lower themselves to the level of the beasts. They obeyed a higher law. They returned good for evil to a nation wholly unable to appreciate or even comprehend it.

As to what the Bulgars are individually and nationally, let us turn to the words of Herr Maximillian Harden, owner and editor of "The Future," of Berlin, ackowledged to be an authority on Balkan peoples and affairs:—

"Here we have the Bulgarians; but dear sirs, we have had the opportunity of seeing and studying you at close range. You are savages, strong only in evil determination and persistence. You are not inspired by any ethical principle. You have no religious feelings, your religion does not bind you together as a spiritual link, but only as a racial one. You can give glib answers to the catechist, but of the meaning of the Decalogue you have no conception. Faithless and ungrateful, you deserted Battenberg in order to fall into the arms of the Russian Alexander, and again you deserted Stambouloff in order to embrace Ferdinand. Without gratitude toward the Russians and Roumanians who fought for your liberation, without gratitude toward the Germans who were your most conscientious teachers, rapacious, insatiable and covetous, you ever are ready to strike even your own companions and friends for material profit. For this reason it would be a thousand times preferable for Macedonia to remain Turkish than to fall into your hands.

"You still have the savage instincts of the hordes from which you descended. You are still standing on the lowest level of mental and moral development. You are primatively uncivilized. Your soldiers, whether in victory or defeat give themselves to murder, pillage and rapine, like the hordes of Attila and like the wild crowds of the Mongols under Chengishan.

"We have incontrovertible proof of your atrocities. You may feign that King Constantine and King Peter, in denouncing you as murderers and vandals, are influenced by the leaders of their armies, but we have the testimony of a whole legion of disinterested foreign eye-witnesses among them French, English, Austrian and German journalists, foreign officials and residents like those of Serres and Cavalla; foreign doctors, such as those engaged by the Servian government, foreign clergymen, and photographers of the foreign nations, one German, one Norwegian and two French. Dismemberment, torture, maiming, strangling of prisoners, decapitations crucifixions, disemboweling and blinding of noncombatants—there is the catalogue of your verified crimes. The depositions of a multitude of foreign eye-witnesses present a report that makes us shiver. In the village of Zaltzar thirty-two mutilated bodies were found, corpses of women on whom Bulgarian soldiers had satiated their own brutal passions; even children under ten have suffered shame. Old men and old wmen were disgraced by the soldiers of Ferdinand. The brutal instincts of the Bulgarians did not even give way before a paralytic old woman of ninety years. Old women and young mothers were driven to the camp with kicks and blows to serve the lusts of the captors. Nor were these only orgies of lewdness; they terminated in bloody butcheries.

"It was with difficulty that many women and children were induced to appear before the investigating committee of foreign doctors because of their shame to make known their dreadful and bleeding wounds. For us Germans, the signature of Dr. Schlip, of the University of Berlin, is more than sufficient to convince us of the accuracy of the report of his medical committee. The authority is unshakable.

"Abhorred Bulgarians! You have destroyed cities and villages, burned and devastated whole districts; you have butchered to your hearts' content. Is that not enough? Now you would try to poison the public opinion with monstrous lies, machinations of your officials and dignitaries, including two members of your government, Genadief and Toucheff. The Bishop of Sofia, the President of the Synod, the Speaker of the Chamber, the President of the University—they have had the audacity to address a cable to me about 'the unparalled vandalism of the Greeks, who had seen fit to humiliate the Bulgarian garrison at Salonica, instead of being thankful to them for their assistance in the capture of that city.' Daring to ask my help and appealing to my human feelings with shameless hypocrisy. 'We are moved to the very depth of our souls, we are choked with indignation against the Greeks, whose conduct we denounced the more bitterly as we intended to discuss the matter with them in harmony and fraternity.' Most honorable gentlemen! You who seized Gevgeli by sudden and treacherous attack in order to separate the Greeks from the Servians—you have the effrontery to claim that Salonica was captured with your assistance! Why, it is a matter of history that Hassan Tahsin Pasha capitulated to the Greeks on the 8th of November, and it was fully three days later when a small detachment of your cavalry reached that place. The conduct of the Greeks has been eminently humane.

"But, tell me, from whom do you descend? In spite of your Slavonic language, yours is the true Mongolian type, with small, slanting and protuberant eyes. Your ancestors were Huns, Avars, Turks and Slovines. You need a very long process of elimination in order to be rid of your primal instincts. Remember that your 'great man,' first Pasha of Bulgaria, Stambouloff, only a week after his resignation had to face nineteen charges for violation of women.

"You cannot deceive those who know you. Before you can make good your claim to the Sisterhood of the Nations you will have to cease to be liars, thieves, incendiaries and ravishers. You will have to call upon the civilized world to uproot from your natures all that is Mongolian and to sow the seed of humanity and decency. Then, and then only, will you be fit to be admitted to the circle of the civilized nations."

There is the indictment of one who knows. A more complete and terrible one it would be hard to imagine.

Had Germany, France or England suffered at the hands of Bulgaria the horrors Greece was called upon to endure, would their troops have held themselves in restraint, would the court martial and court of justice have been invoked instead of the rifle and bayonet? We all hope that the world has advanced far enough in its slow development toward higher things to allow us to believe that the great nations of the world who claim for their own the gentle Gospel of Christ would find themselves sufficiently strong in the rule of mercy and right. But the fact remains that it was reserved for Greece to be the forerunner, to set the example of self control, to be "tried as few nations have been tried and not to have been found wanting." Here was the strife—hers be the honor.

PLANNING EXHIBIT IN OAKLAND

OTHER CITIES BIDDING FOR SHOW

(Special to Record-Herald)

OAKLAND, Feb. 12.—Brought direct from New York, where it has been a great success and attracted attention from the entire East, Oakland is to have on March 12 to 22, a big City Planning exhibit.

The exhibit includes thousands of drawings, photographs, models, diagrams and placards, showing what the foremost cities of the world have done to solve their problem.

Other cities in California, both large and small, are negotiating for the exhibit, which probably will be made in San Francisco after Oakland has seen it, and a number of the smaller cities, those that are just beginning to find that they have or soon will have trouble with their scheme of development and growth, are trying to obtain the exhibit for a few days.

C. H. Cheney, an architect, is secretary of the Oakland City Planning committee, which was formed for the express purpose of having Oakland the first city in California to give such an exhibit. Cheney said today:

"Seeing is believing. When city officials and citizens can have before them actual photographs and other true delineations of how most of the world has actually done things, it will be much easier to decide upon what improvements Oakland and other California cities need and also to suggest the best way to go about getting them.

"City planning is municipal forethought and would provide a scheme of development for the city's growth and the county's growth for a generation ahead, in order that every expenditure of public money, every effort of improvement clubs or other civic organizations may all pull together toward a finished end."

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

Local Mention

Pertinent remarks about well-known people in Richmond and happenings about town.

E. B. Sparleder, of Santa Barbara, has opened up a cigar store at 206 Macdonald avenue.

Onetah Tribe Red Men in this city entertained George Sullivan at its meeting last evening.

A millinery department is to be opened in the Weeks department store by Miss Anna Cunningham of Oakland.

Mrs. Zeb Knott who has been ill at the Roosevelt hospital in Berkeley was returned to her home in this city yesterday.

James Ford, who several days ago escaped from the police station, was given 60 days in the county jail by Police Judge Lindsey yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. DuBois, of Livingston, Montana, are spending several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Roe on Barrett avenue, near Twenty-third street.

Frank Ogden, who forgot to pay a board bill at the Marcollo hotel, located at the corner of First street and Macdonald avenue, was arrested yesterday in Stockton by Officer McGowan.

John Kandres, proprietor of the Pullman hotel, who was arrested on a charge of battery several days ago preferred against him by Frank Moitoza, was released from custody yesterday, following a jury trial.

Joe Harveston, the live wire realty hustler of San Francisco, who is mining and big promotion generally, and who generally sleeps with one eye open, visited Richmond today, to take a look at the town and its growth. He had something big in mind, a tract of land or a ten-story skyscraper, or something similar, but would not divulge the news item.

J. Rio Baker, county treasurer, is in the city today, getting acquainted with our people. Mr. Baker is under the painful necessity of getting elected this fall, having been appointed to serve out the unexpired term of Louis Buttner.

A number of thoughts remain unexpressed, owing to the fact that the thinkers don't do most of the talking.

The advertisements offering diamonds on the installment plan indicate that there are that kind of people in this complex cosmos.

REV. CALFEE IS ELUGIZED BY PAPER

(Martinez Standard)

They have a pastor down the Richmond way who is as ideally cut out for the pulpit as is Superior Judge R. H. Latimer for the bench. In fact, a glance is sufficient to fit either of them in the positions they occupy. The pastor is Rev. D. W. Calfee. He has the Denman Thompson way that makes him at home wherever he goes and nobody feels a stranger to him. He was up on a visit to the county seat one day this week and had a look into the jail. The boys incarcerated there took to him at once and he was just as warm in his greetings and handshakes as if they were occupants of front pews. He certainly takes along the sunshine wherever he goes. That is worth a great deal more than packing around a check book which lots of people do who are of no more use on earth than so much condemned pork. Anyhow the pastor from Richmond has the goats of everyone up here on his personality alone. He has a head on him something like Henry Ward Beecher's photographs credit the famous divine with carrying around on his shoulders. But there the likeness happily ends for the Terminal city clergyman past and his advanced years are an estoppel to further allegations of resemblance to Beecher. And as to his creed—to the deuce with that—for Rev. Calfee is a man worth knowing.

NOTED PREACHER AT WESLEY CHURCH

Rev. E. R. Willis, president of the National School for Deaconesses at San Francisco, will preach at the Wesley Methodist church this evening. The doctor is considered one of the best exponents of the scriptures in the state and those who enjoy a good sermon will miss a treat if they do not take advantage of the opportunity and attend the services this evening.

The services at the Wesley Methodist church will continue until Sunday evening. Large crowds are being attracted to the church nightly to hear the gospel preached.

Anyone who ever met an Englishman is apt to designate every foggy morning as being a lot like London.

Y. M. I. CONVENTION TO BE BIGGEST HELD FOR YEARS

The delegates who will attend the district Y. M. I. convention in Alameda are P. Galligan, M. Cochoran, Martin Mattern, D. Murphy and J. Murphy.

The convention will be one of the largest held in many years as most of the lodges in this district are sending a large number of delegates.

"While I don't hanker for the crowded centers, it seems a large city would be preferable to the small town where a cigarette is considered the unpardonable sin."

Napoleon was the world's greatest general for quite a while, but he finally met someone who could whip him. Which is the common lot of fussy folks. Let peace prevail.

An old saying intimates that one should keep on sawing wood. Now sawing wood brings mighty low wages, and other old maxims are about as silly.

Houses and heating plants are better than in the good old days when the oldest inhabitants were compiling weather records for future reference.

CHIEF ARNOLD TO RETURN HOME

Chief of Police James P. Arnold will return to his home in this city from the St. Francis hospital tomorrow or Saturday, according to the report given out at police headquarters today.

The chief's condition since being removed to the hospital has improved to such an extent that he will be able to be up and around shortly after his return.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF, ACHING JOINTS

Rub Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Oil

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism.

It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia.

Limber up! Get a 25 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

SEATS SCARCE AT OAKLAND ORPHEUM

Maurice and Firence Walton have created such a furror at the Oakland Orpheum that patrons find it difficult to secure seats. As Oakland theatre goers ordinarily do not rave over dancers in any such way, the genuineness of this tribute to Maurice and Miss Walton cannot be denied.

The vaudeville in addition to these famous dancers is of unusual class this week.

The program includes Claude and Fannie Usher in a new play "The Straight Path," these favorites, with "Spareribs" are accorded an ovation at every performance.

Walter Lawrence and Frances Cameron two brillian musical comedy stars, have a delightful melange of operatic bits, light comedy chatter and characteristic acting with some graceful dancing thrown in for good measure, all of it entitled "A Bit of Broadway."

Leo Carrillo scores a big hit with his mimicry.

Conly and Webb in a cyclonic musical farce called "In the Storm;" "The Double Cross," a great crook play by Will Irwin and Ralph Renaud; Valmont and Reyenen French Grand Opera stars; Paul Conchas, Kaiser Wilhelm's Military Hercules and some exclusive Orpheum motion pictures round out the bill.

A man is as young as he feels, but a widower is older that he acts; considering these matters by and large and as a general proposition.

GOOD PASTRIES PLEASE HUBBY

"Why, Helen, what in the world have you got here—are you starting a bakery?"

"No, Mary, but ever since I have been buying pies and pastries at the National Bakery, on the corner of Nevin avenue and Ninth street, Geo. never seems to get enough. He says they're better than I make myself. It suits me all right because I get out of the work of baking."

"I am going right down to that bakery now, Helen, and see if I can get something to please that particular hubby of mine." —advt

CANDIDATES ARE BUILDING FENCES

(Martinez Gazette)

T. D. Johnson, candidate for district attorney of Contra Costa county accompanied by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. E. Carlson have been spending several days traveling through the central portion of the county while the aspirant for the court house billet was engaged in nailing several boards on his political fences. Johnston says things look fine and he is much elated.

Assistant District Attorney A. S. Ormsby who is a candidate for the same office was circulating among friends at his old "stamping ground" in Walnut Creek Tuesday and says that he found that other candidates have been given but little encouragement in the neck of the woods.

A. J. Soto, whom rumor says is to be a candidate has not declared himself as yet bit he is considering the matter very seriously and has been discussing the matter frequently of late with friends.

SOTO APPRAISES THREE ESTATES

In the first two named the value of their possessions consisting of holdings in the Santa Fe tract at Richmond is given at $500 each, while that of Michael Dempsey is set at $750. BAPTIST SERVICES GROWING IN INTEREST

The Girls' choir will render a selection at the Calvary Baptist church tonight. The Gospel meetings at the church are growing in interest and attendance. Last night the church was comfortably filled with people. Some are taking a stand for a new life.

Rev. Haines is a strong gospel preacher. He is preaching a series of sermns on "The Lost Trail." Last night he talked of the way to find the trail. "Jesus is the way."

Services begin at 7:30. All are welcome.

SANITARY WORKS WILL AGAIN OPEN

The Pacific Sanitary works will soon be in operation again after having been shut down for several weeks owing to repairs having to be made to the glazing furnaces. The work of repairing the furnaces is of such a delicate nature that an experienced man had to be brought to this city from the east to superintend the work.

"The chief cause for the trouble is due to the light California oil that we have been using" stated H. Friesleben, manager of the plant, last evening.

LOCAL PLASTERER SECURES CONTRACT

E. D. Rendell, the local plastering contractor was awarded the contract for the Marcollo apartment which is being erected on First street, between Macdonald and Bissel avenues.

The carpenter work on the building is rapidly nearing completion.

EYE TALKS
Why do your wear glasses?
No one under 40 years of age should have to wear a reading correction.
A deficiency of nervous energy makes the demand, a correction that conserves the waste and is what you need and you should wear it constantly.
The sudden or careless removal of your glasses gives the system a severe shock.
The proper fitting of a glass is as important an operation as any performed with a knife.
If you are not satisfied, come in and talk it over.

TURLEY WRITES ON GET TOGETHER TOPIC IN SEQUOIA

The February number of "The Sequoia" is off the press and contains many bright and interesting items concerning the activities of the members of Richmond's leading club. Editor Turley has caught the right spirit for his leading article is a good one. It is captioned "Get Together" and is so terse and to the point that we produce a portion herewith:

Have you caught it?

What?

Why, this "Get Together" spirit which is rampant here in Richmond, with these sunshiny days, when the new currency bill is just taking effect, the Panama Pacific Exposition so near at hand, and the many other things which will tend to make this the greatest year for the upbuilding of our city we have ever experienced.

All of our civic organizations and the daily papers are brim full of this "Get Together" spirit.

We understand that the Richmond Industrial Commission at its last meeting appointed a special committee to arrange for a big meeting of the various organizations of Richmond to "Get Together" on some work-together basis hereafter.

The Point Richmond Commercial club, the Progressive club, the Civic Center club, Real Estate association and other organizations realize that we must "get together" and work together to accomplish the results, with all of our natural advantages, as have been accomplished in the southern part of the state.

The Record-Herald, Daily Independent, Daily News, Terminal, Contra Costan and Advance are chuck full of the "get togther" spirit. That man Hulaniski just has to turn loose once in a while—sometimes twice.

The merchants got together last Tuesday evening at the Sequoia Commercial club rooms and formed a temporary organization.

Mayor O. R. Ludewig says that the various civic organizations should get together and form one large and strong organization consisting of 500 or more members and have a man with an automobile as secretary, devote his entire time to the work.

The writer, as secretary of the Sequoia Commercial club, is anxious to see this brought about and believes the time is ripe to get things stirring here in Richmond. It might possibly be deemed advisable to get together under some other name than the Sequoia Commercial club, but if we find it so, let us work under any name that will accomplish results. I am not advocating any plan to do away with or discontinue the existence of any of these organizations, but to form a working relation between them for the more rapid upbuilding of our city. Nor am I looking for any high salaried position as secretary for such an organization. Though I am willing to put my shoulder to the wheel and help bring together such an organization and serve as its secretary until such time as better material can be found to carry out its work.

We feel that the Sequoia Commercial club is the only organization of its kind here in Richmond which has its home and permanent headquarters and prepared to take care of its members socially as well as commercially. The club home where the members can spend a social evening when ever they desire has a great tendency to hold an organization together. The club home and headquarters give a place where the merchants can meet in private session when ever they have matters only of interest to themselves, and with the whole body at its meetings. Where the real estate men can come together and agree upon some basis whereby he can sell the property from his own listings and boost the property of the other fellows' listings at the same time. Where the Richmond Industrial Commission can have their Richmond headquarters and get better acquainted with the fellows they claim are knocking the subdivision of tracts of some of its members. Not to have that organization discontinued or to interfere with its work for they have done and are doing a great work for the upbuilding of the city of Richmond, nor to discontinue their headquarters in San Francisco or any other city where they can avertise Richmond to the best advantage, but that they may mingle with, and come in closer touch, with the citizens of Richmond.

Now let's get together and put down any bar that may be in the way of bringing about these results, for, in unity there is strength, and with our united efforts and natural advantages can we not make this city grow more rapidly than the southern California cities have advanced. Let us start the ball-a-rollin' right away and if necessary in order to get together, get up a banquet, or some one has suggested, have a big celebration over the commencement of the harbor and tunnel work.

Unless there is some change in the program, my plan is to get out for next month's issue of "The Sequoia," a special Classified Business Directory number which will contain under business or employment classification, the names and business address of all of our members, and have printed a sufficient number of copies, extra, to send out when ever required. We are constantly receiving requests for a list of names of the various lines of the business men, principally real estate men, and it is no small task to copy these names each time. Now I would like to have as many of the business men in this directory as possible.

LARGE CROWDS AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Large crowds are attending the revival services this week at the Presbyterian church, both afternoons and evenings. Dr. Sherman read for his text last night the 37th verse of the eighth chapter of John, "I Know that Ye are Abraham's seed; but ye seek to kill me because my word hath no place in you."

The theme running through the discourse was "The Real Abiding Place of the Word." The speaker divided the subjects into three parts under the heads, "Have the word in the Home;" "Have the word in the head;" "Have the word in the heart."

The necessity of having the word paramount in one's life was most forcefully presented in Dr. Sherman's most pleasing way. The sermons thus far have all been presented in an argumentation way that cause them to take deep root in the minds of the hearers. There is nothing sensational about the meetings; nothing that works alone on the emotions and causes spasmodic bursts of supposed religious fervor. No one is importuned personally to seek salvation and no one is molested in any way whatsoever. The entire services are free from sensationalism of any kind.

The value of a Christian life is held up in an attractive and convincing manner that appeals to man's calm and deliberate judgment.

Dr. Sherman speaks again tonight.

PULLMAN TO HAVE ATHLETIC CLUB

A number of the boys of Pullman have banded together and started the ball rolling for the organization of a boys' club. The young members plan to have a club house which will be fully equipped with all the latest gymnasium apparatus.

The committee which is working hard to make the club a success are Clyde Munday, Melvin Wright and Victor Nevallier.

Some of the decollette designs here lately are so much so, that they deserve a shorter, uglier name.

Fast Ball Game Scheduled For Sunday

Cream of Ball Stars To Be In Game

The Richmond team will clash with the crack U. S. Laundry nine on Sunday afternoon at the local First street grounds. The game promises to be a rip-snorter from the start and will give the fans of this city a chance to see just what the local boys can do when up against a fast metropolitan team.

"Dick" Greathouse, manager of the Richmond nine, has made several changes in the lineup which he thinks will help the team carry home the laurels. The grounds have been rolled into excellent condition for the coming contest. The two teams will line up for the game in the following way:

U. S. Laundry—Madden or Manning, pitcher; O'Neil catcher; Norton, 1st base; Connell, 2nd base; Bolger, 3rd base; Cavenau, shortstop; Cameron, left field; Garcia, center field; Bauer, right field.

ACCIDENT COMMISSION MAKES SOME IMPORTANT RULINGS

As a result of a widespread request from employers, attorneys and employees throughout the state, the Industrial Accident commission has interpreted several of the more important clauses of the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act previous to any case having been brought before it for adjudication. The following rulings are not to be looked upon as being the final opinions of the commission; they have been made subject to change or modification.

Chauffeurs

The Commission holds that chauffeurs, private or otherwise, come under the compensation provisions of the Workmen's Compensation, Insurance and safety act without any election on the part of the employer being necessary. They are not to be classed as household domestic servants.

Ambulance Fees

It has also expressed itself as being of the opinion that the reasonable cost of necessary transportation immediately connected with the injury is a proper charge for medical treatment under the compensation act.

Voluntary Fire Departments, Etc.

It has ruled that members of voluntary fire departments, operating without remuneration, and public officers, who serve without remuneration, are entitled to medical and surgical benefits, but are not entitled to any other compensation benefits.

Farm Employees

In the case of farm employees, it expresses the opinion that work done on a farm by employees of the farmer for the maintenance and operation of such farm, is excluded from the compulsory provisions of the compensation law, but that such farm employees, however, can proceed against their employers by means of a suit for damages, said suit being filed under the first two sections of the Roseberry Act.

Interstate Commerce Employees

The commission has also stated that it will assume jurisdiction where employers residing in California and employees residing in California make a contract of hire in California, without reference where any injury may take place.

Earnings of Seasonal Employees

In each case where subdivisions 1 and 2 of subsection (a) of section 17, of the Compensation Act cannot reasonably and fairly be applied, the Industrial Accident Commission holds that it will seek to ascertain the average annual earnings by testimony showing the earnings throughout the year of the individual concerned.

OWENS RECALL IS CRITICIZED

(Antioch Ledger)

The owens recall should be defeated decisively by the people when it comes up for decision on Tuesday, March 31, for the reason there are not good and sufficient reasons for retiring that official. Those who are now seeking to have him removed would not listen to reason previous to his election and insisted he was the man that was needed. However, following his actions in the legislature, when he voted according to his own convictions and against the pet measures of some of his constituents, the cry was at once raised he should be recalled.

We did not favor his candidacy at the time of his election and under ordinary circumstances should be one of those seeking to have our representative recalled. On the contrary we shall use our best efforts to influence people of eastern Contra Costa to have Mr. Owens remain in office.

People in this section are not interested at present one way or another regarding the question, but they should awaken to the fact that in order to make the recall ineffective at least fifty-one per cent of the vote must be polled in his favor. Do not forget that those opposed to the Senator will vote solidly and if they are successful it will be because the supporters of Mr. Owens are asleep.

Cats are supposed to catch mice, and there seems no chance of them running out of raw material.
